Maryland Farm Bureau Members Receive College Scholarships

Davidsonville, MD (April 4, 2016) – Maryland Farm Bureau (MFB) is pleased to announce the winners of our 2016 college scholarships: Amanda Goslee of Sharptown, Christopher Webb of Colora, Gabrielle Cory of Leonardtown, Katherine Weant of Taneytown, and Nicholas Parrish of Westminster. Each scholarship is worth $2,000 toward the winner's college tuition. All winners or their parents/guardians are members of Maryland Farm Bureau.

Applicants were required to write an essay describing “what Farm Bureau means to me.” Three scholarships were awarded to agriculture majors and two scholarships were awarded to non-agriculture majors. Selection was made by a Scholarship Committee designated by Maryland Farm Bureau.

Amanda Goslee of Sharptown is a member of Wicomico County Farm Bureau and a recent graduate of North Dorchester High School. Amanda is currently attending Delaware Valley University where she studies Livestock Science and Management.

Christopher Webb of Colora is a member of Cecil County Farm Bureau and a recent graduate of The Tome School. Christopher is currently attending the University of Maryland where he studies Mechanical Engineering.

Gabrielle Cory of Leonardtown is a member of St. Mary's County Farm Bureau and a recent graduate of Leonardtown High School. Gabrielle is currently attending the University of Maryland where she studies Nutrition.

Katherine Weant of Taneytown is a member of Carroll County Farm Bureau and a recent graduate of Francis Scott Key High School. Katherine is currently attending the Ohio State University Agricultural Technical Institute where she studies Dairy Production and Management. Katherine plans to join the Maryland Farm Bureau Young Farmer's Committee after she graduates college.

Nicholas Parrish of Westminster is a member of Carroll County Farm Bureau and a recent graduate of Winters Mill High School. Nicholas is currently attending the University of Delaware where he studies Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering.
